

First Generation Students' Studying Conditions: A Comparative Analysis

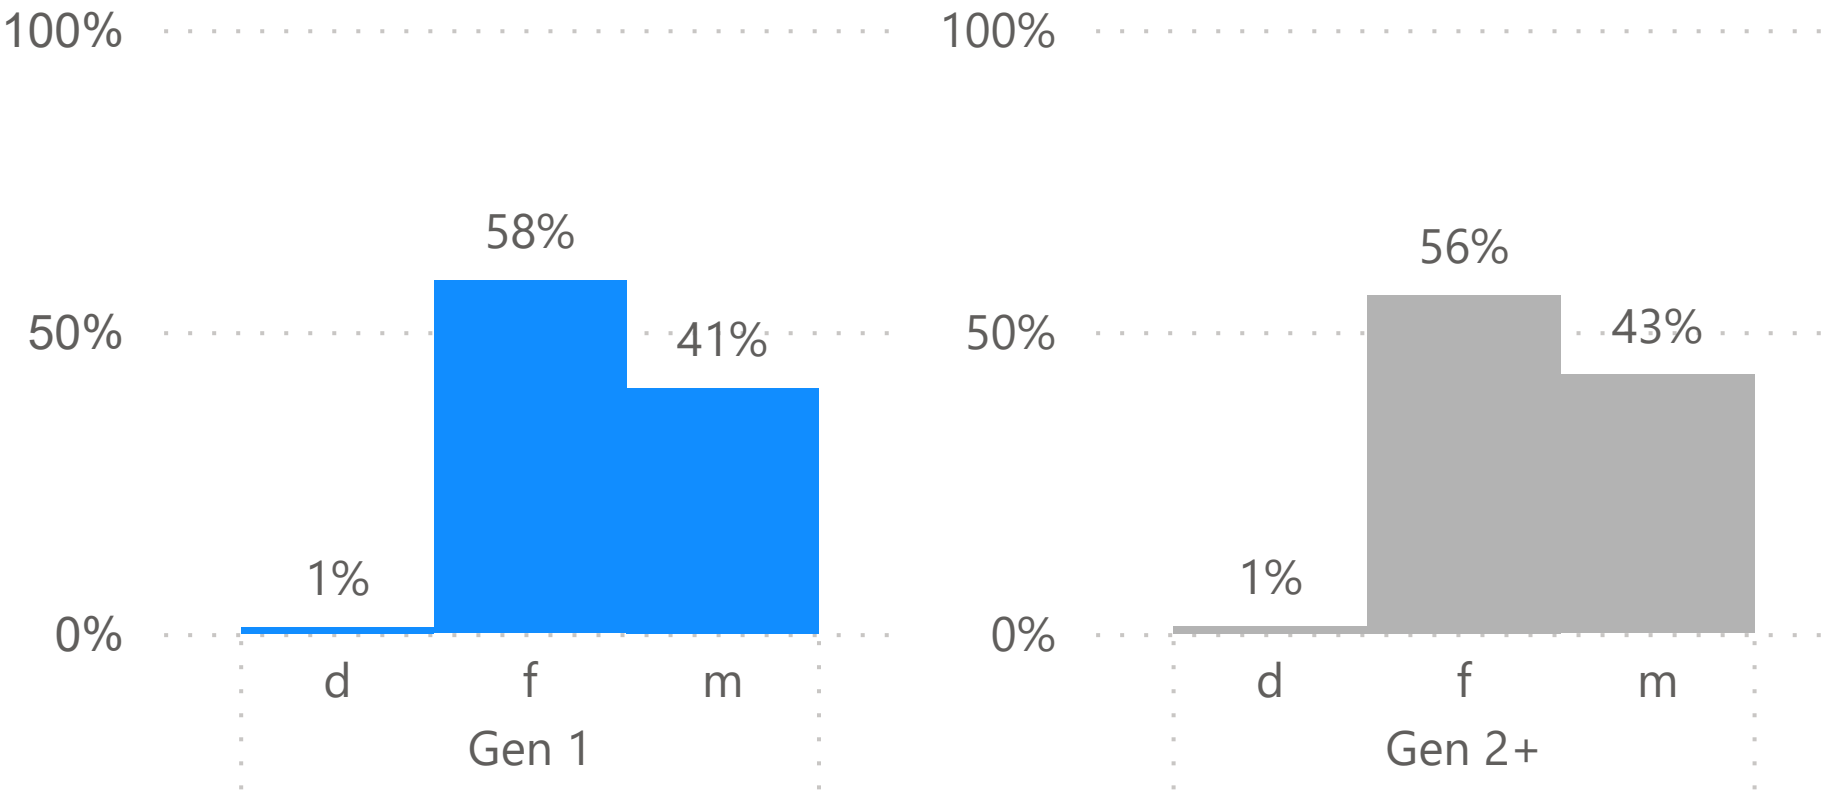

Finding 1: First Gen Students start studying later and more often have fathers working in blue collar jobs

2016 data | Gen 1 students are students where neither parent has a higher education degree | Percentages calculated among respondents per survey question

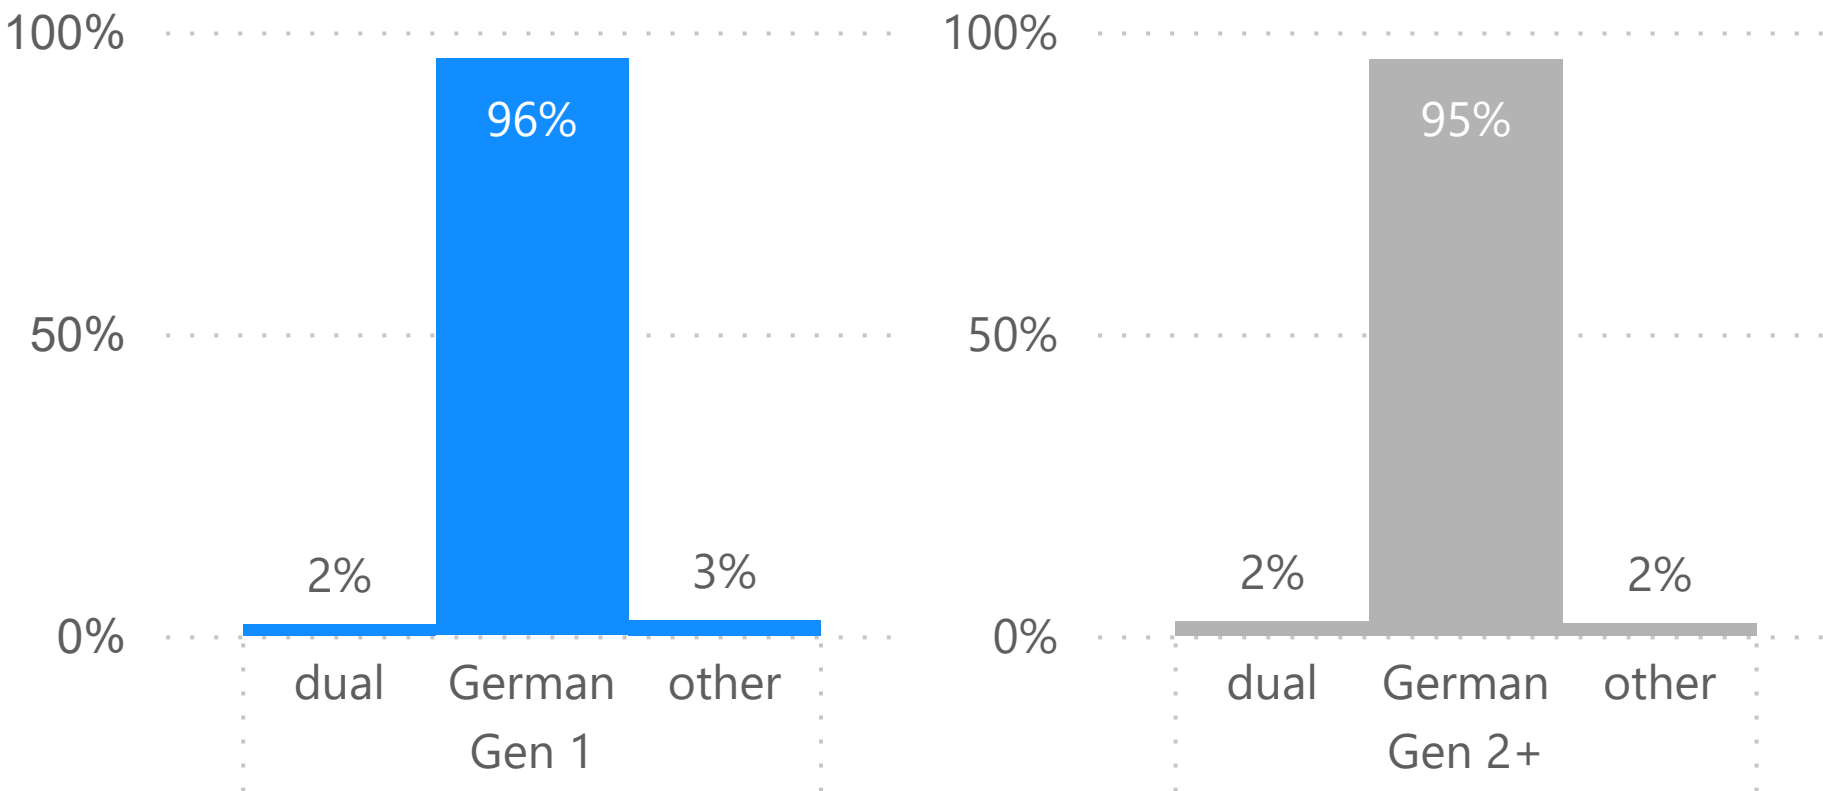

Age

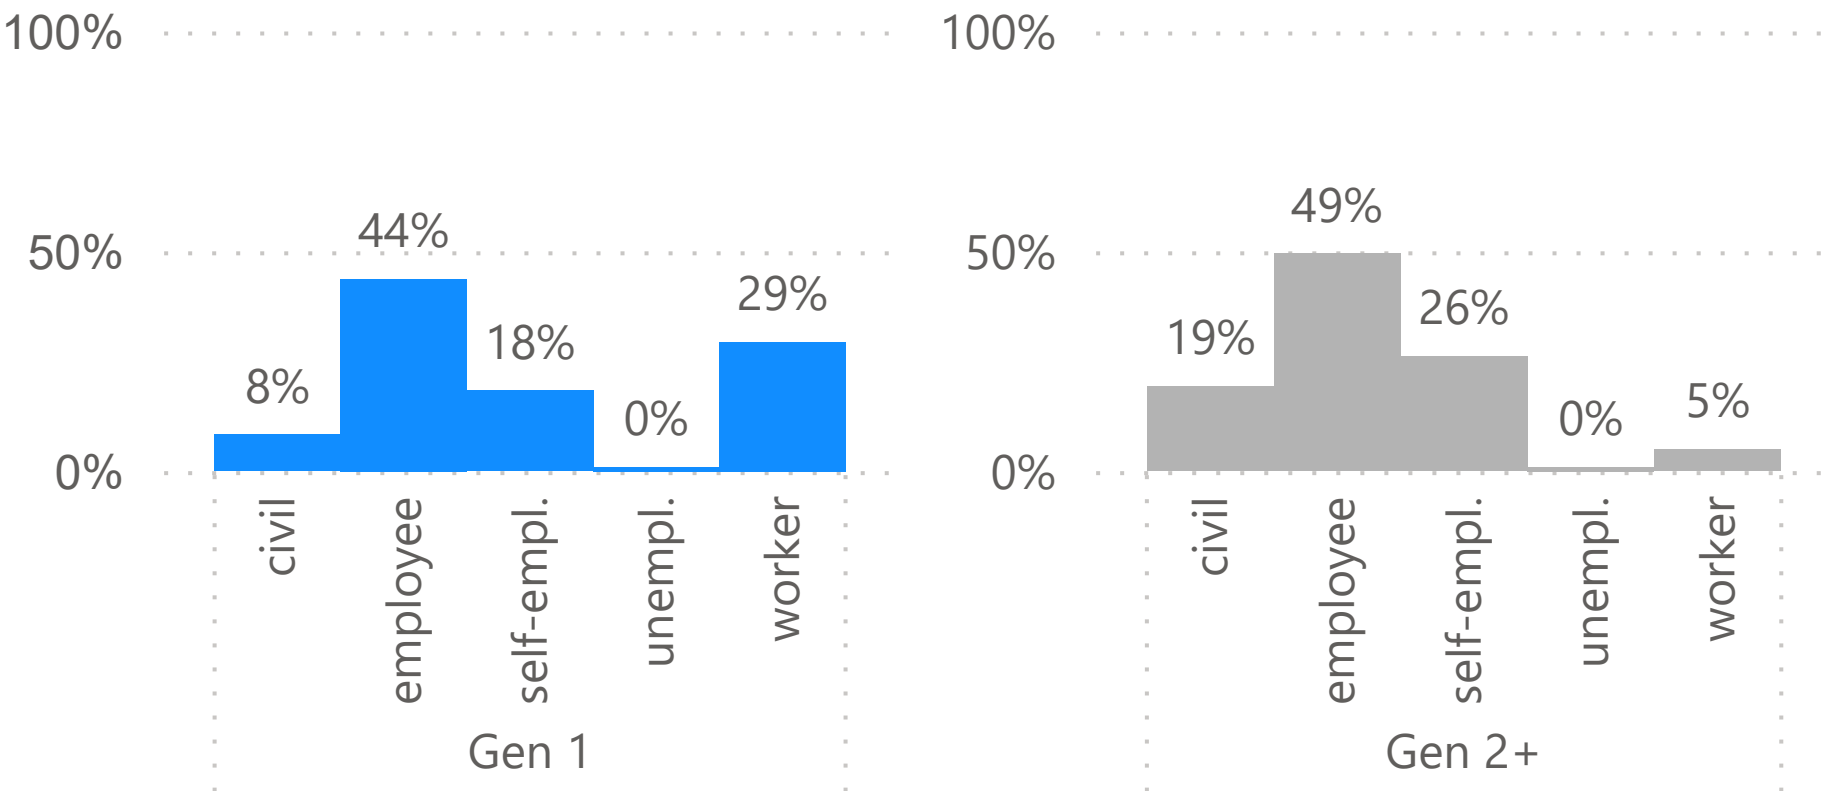

Gender

Citizenship

Father's Occupation

Source: RDC of the Federal Statistical Office and Statistical Offices of the Federal States, DOI: <https://doi.org/10.21249/DZHW:ssypool:1.0.1>, own calculations.

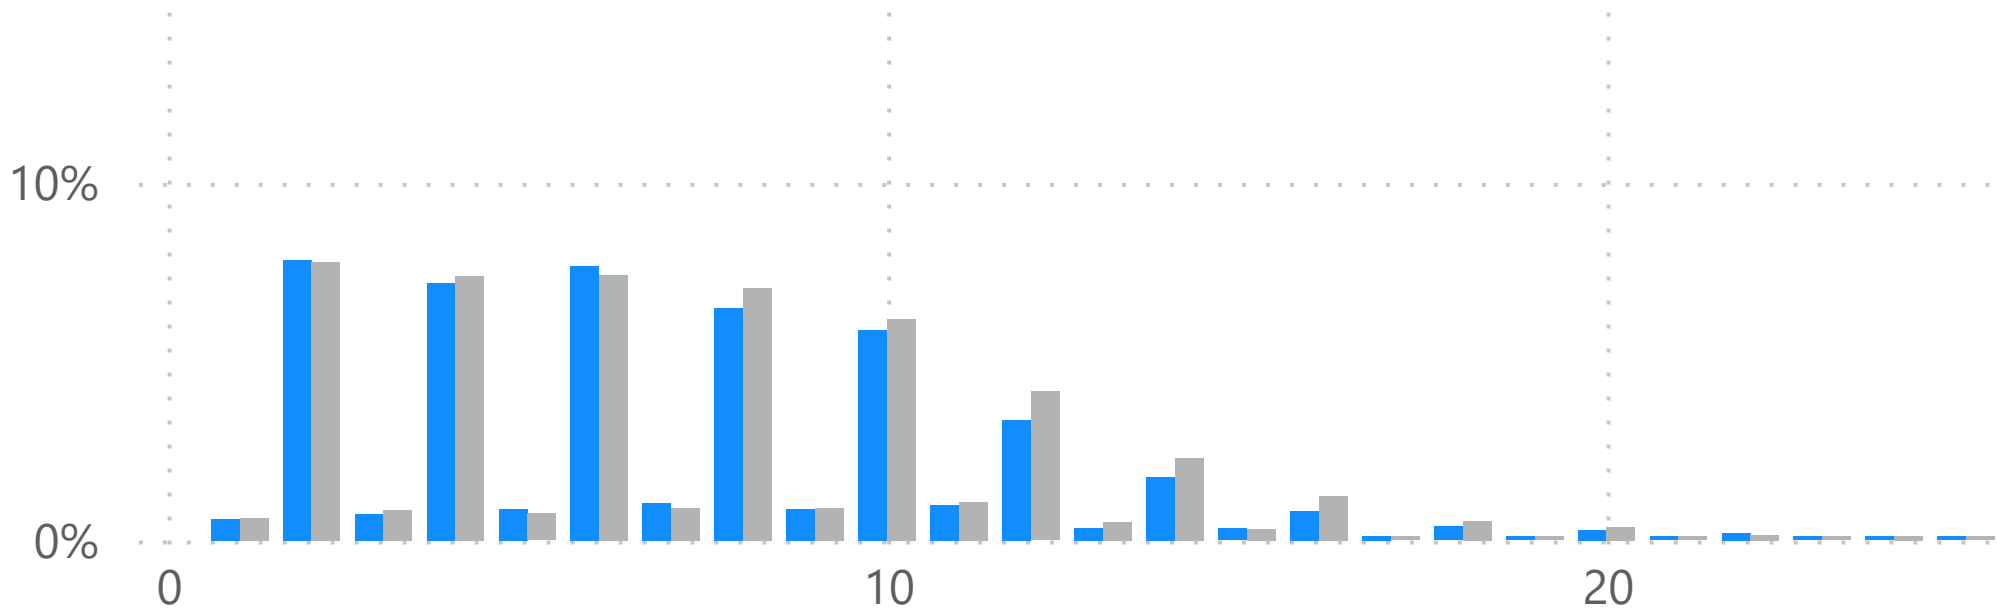

First Generation Students' Studying Conditions: A Comparative Analysis

Finding 2: First Gen Students have more limited university access and less often pursue state examinations

2016 data | Gen 1 students are students where neither parent has a higher education degree | Percentages calculated among respondents per survey question

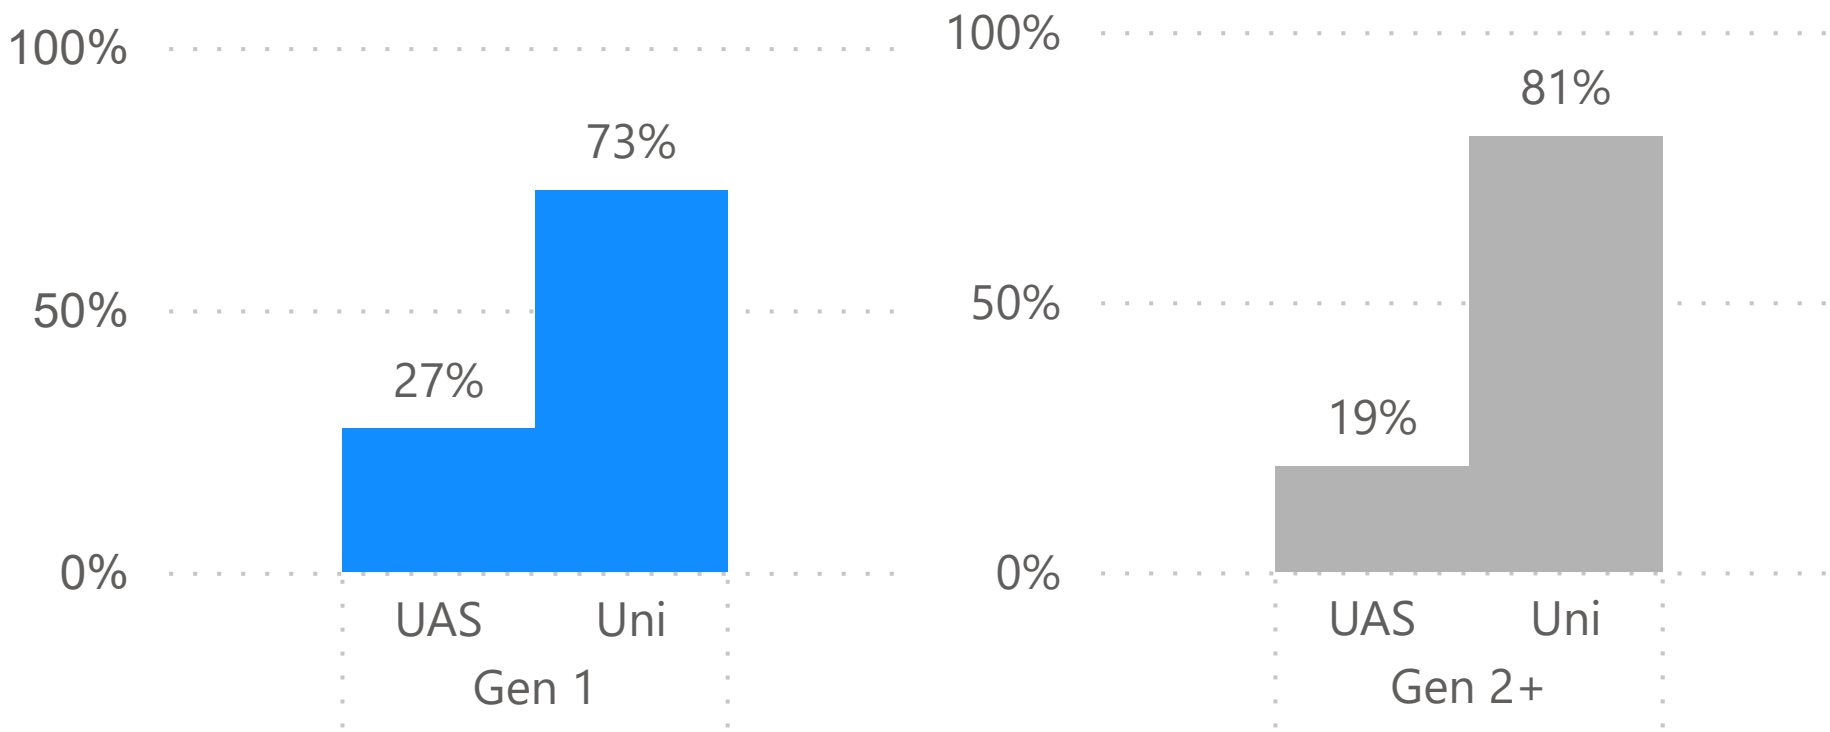

Semester

Student Generation ● Gen 1 ● Gen 2+

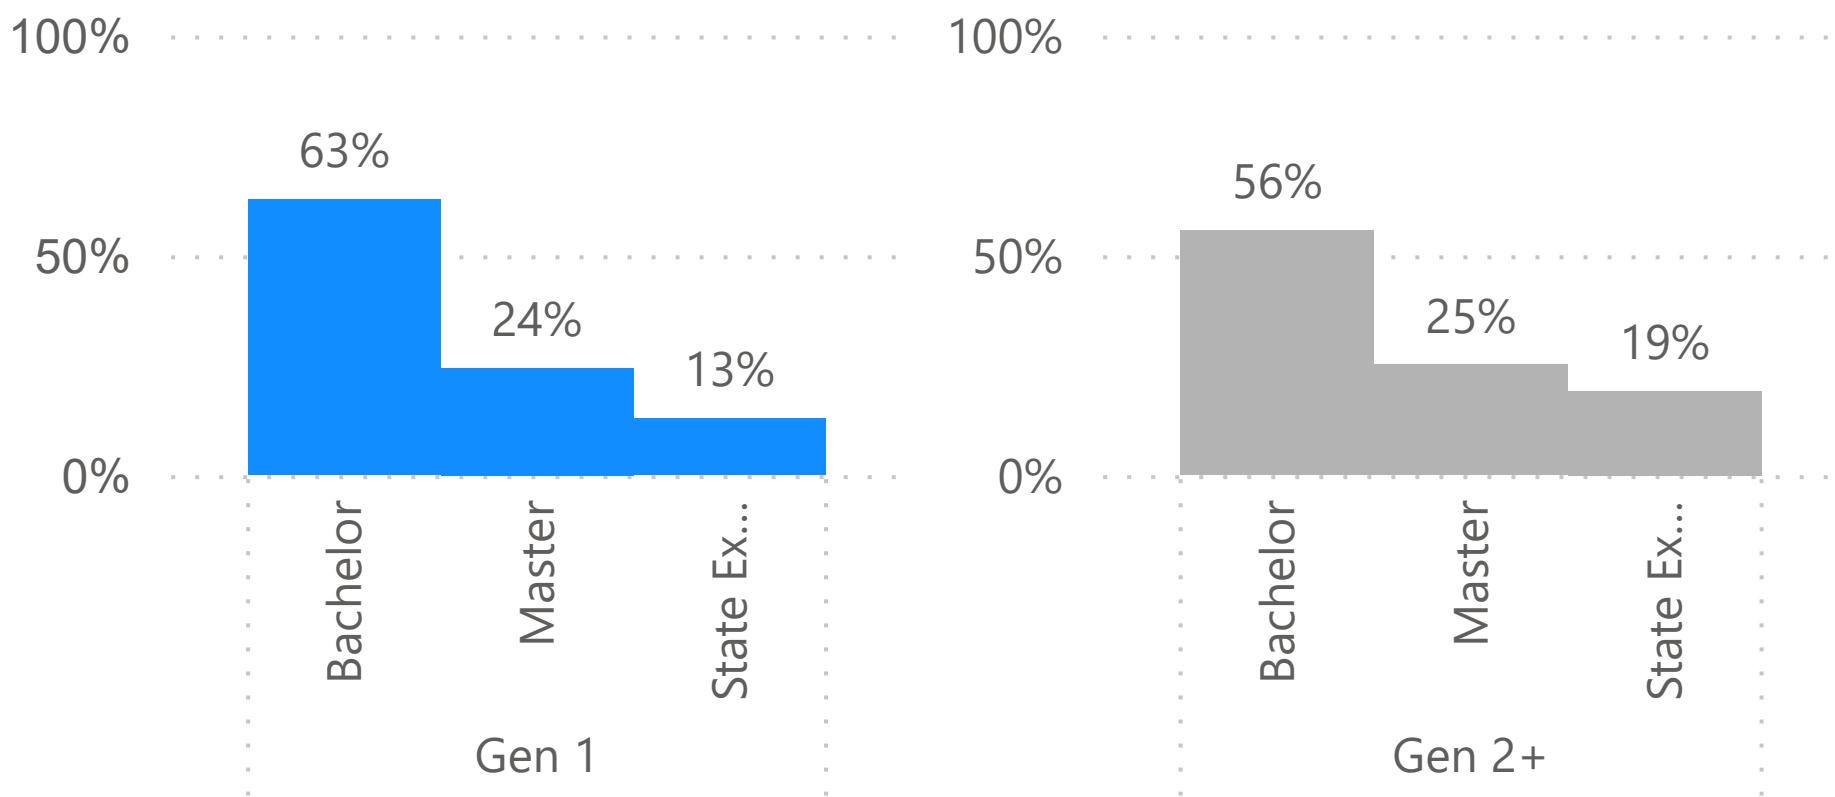

Higher Education Institution

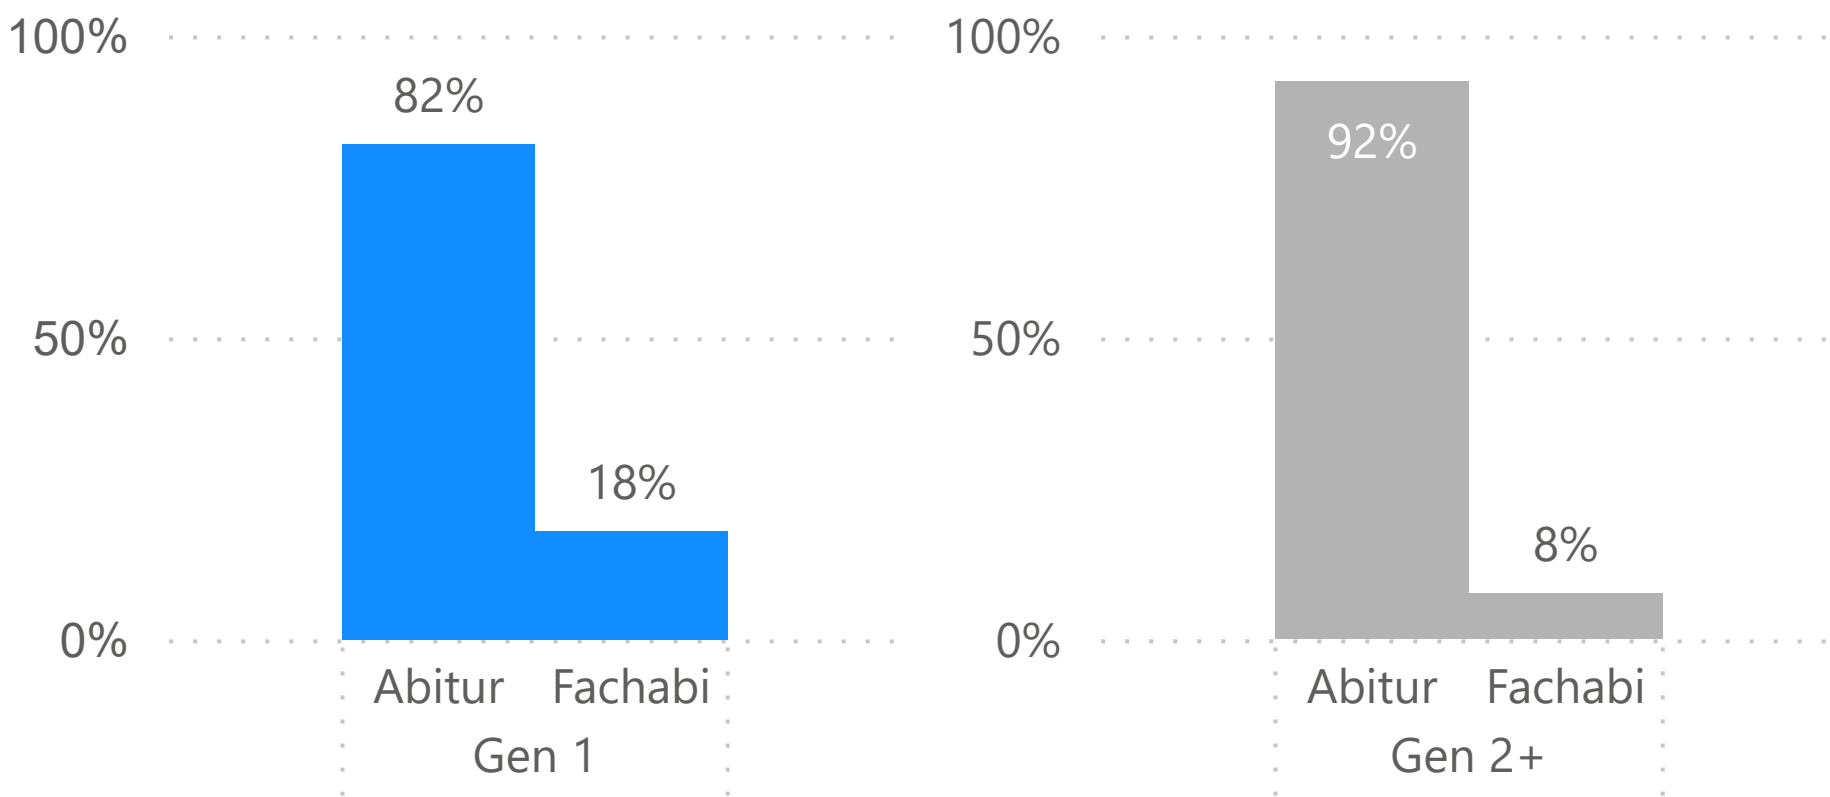

(UAS = University of Applied Sciences)

Pursued Degree

University Entrance Qualification

Source: RDC of the Federal Statistical Office and Statistical Offices of the Federal States, DOI: <https://doi.org/10.21249/DZHW:ssypool:1.0.1>, own calculations.

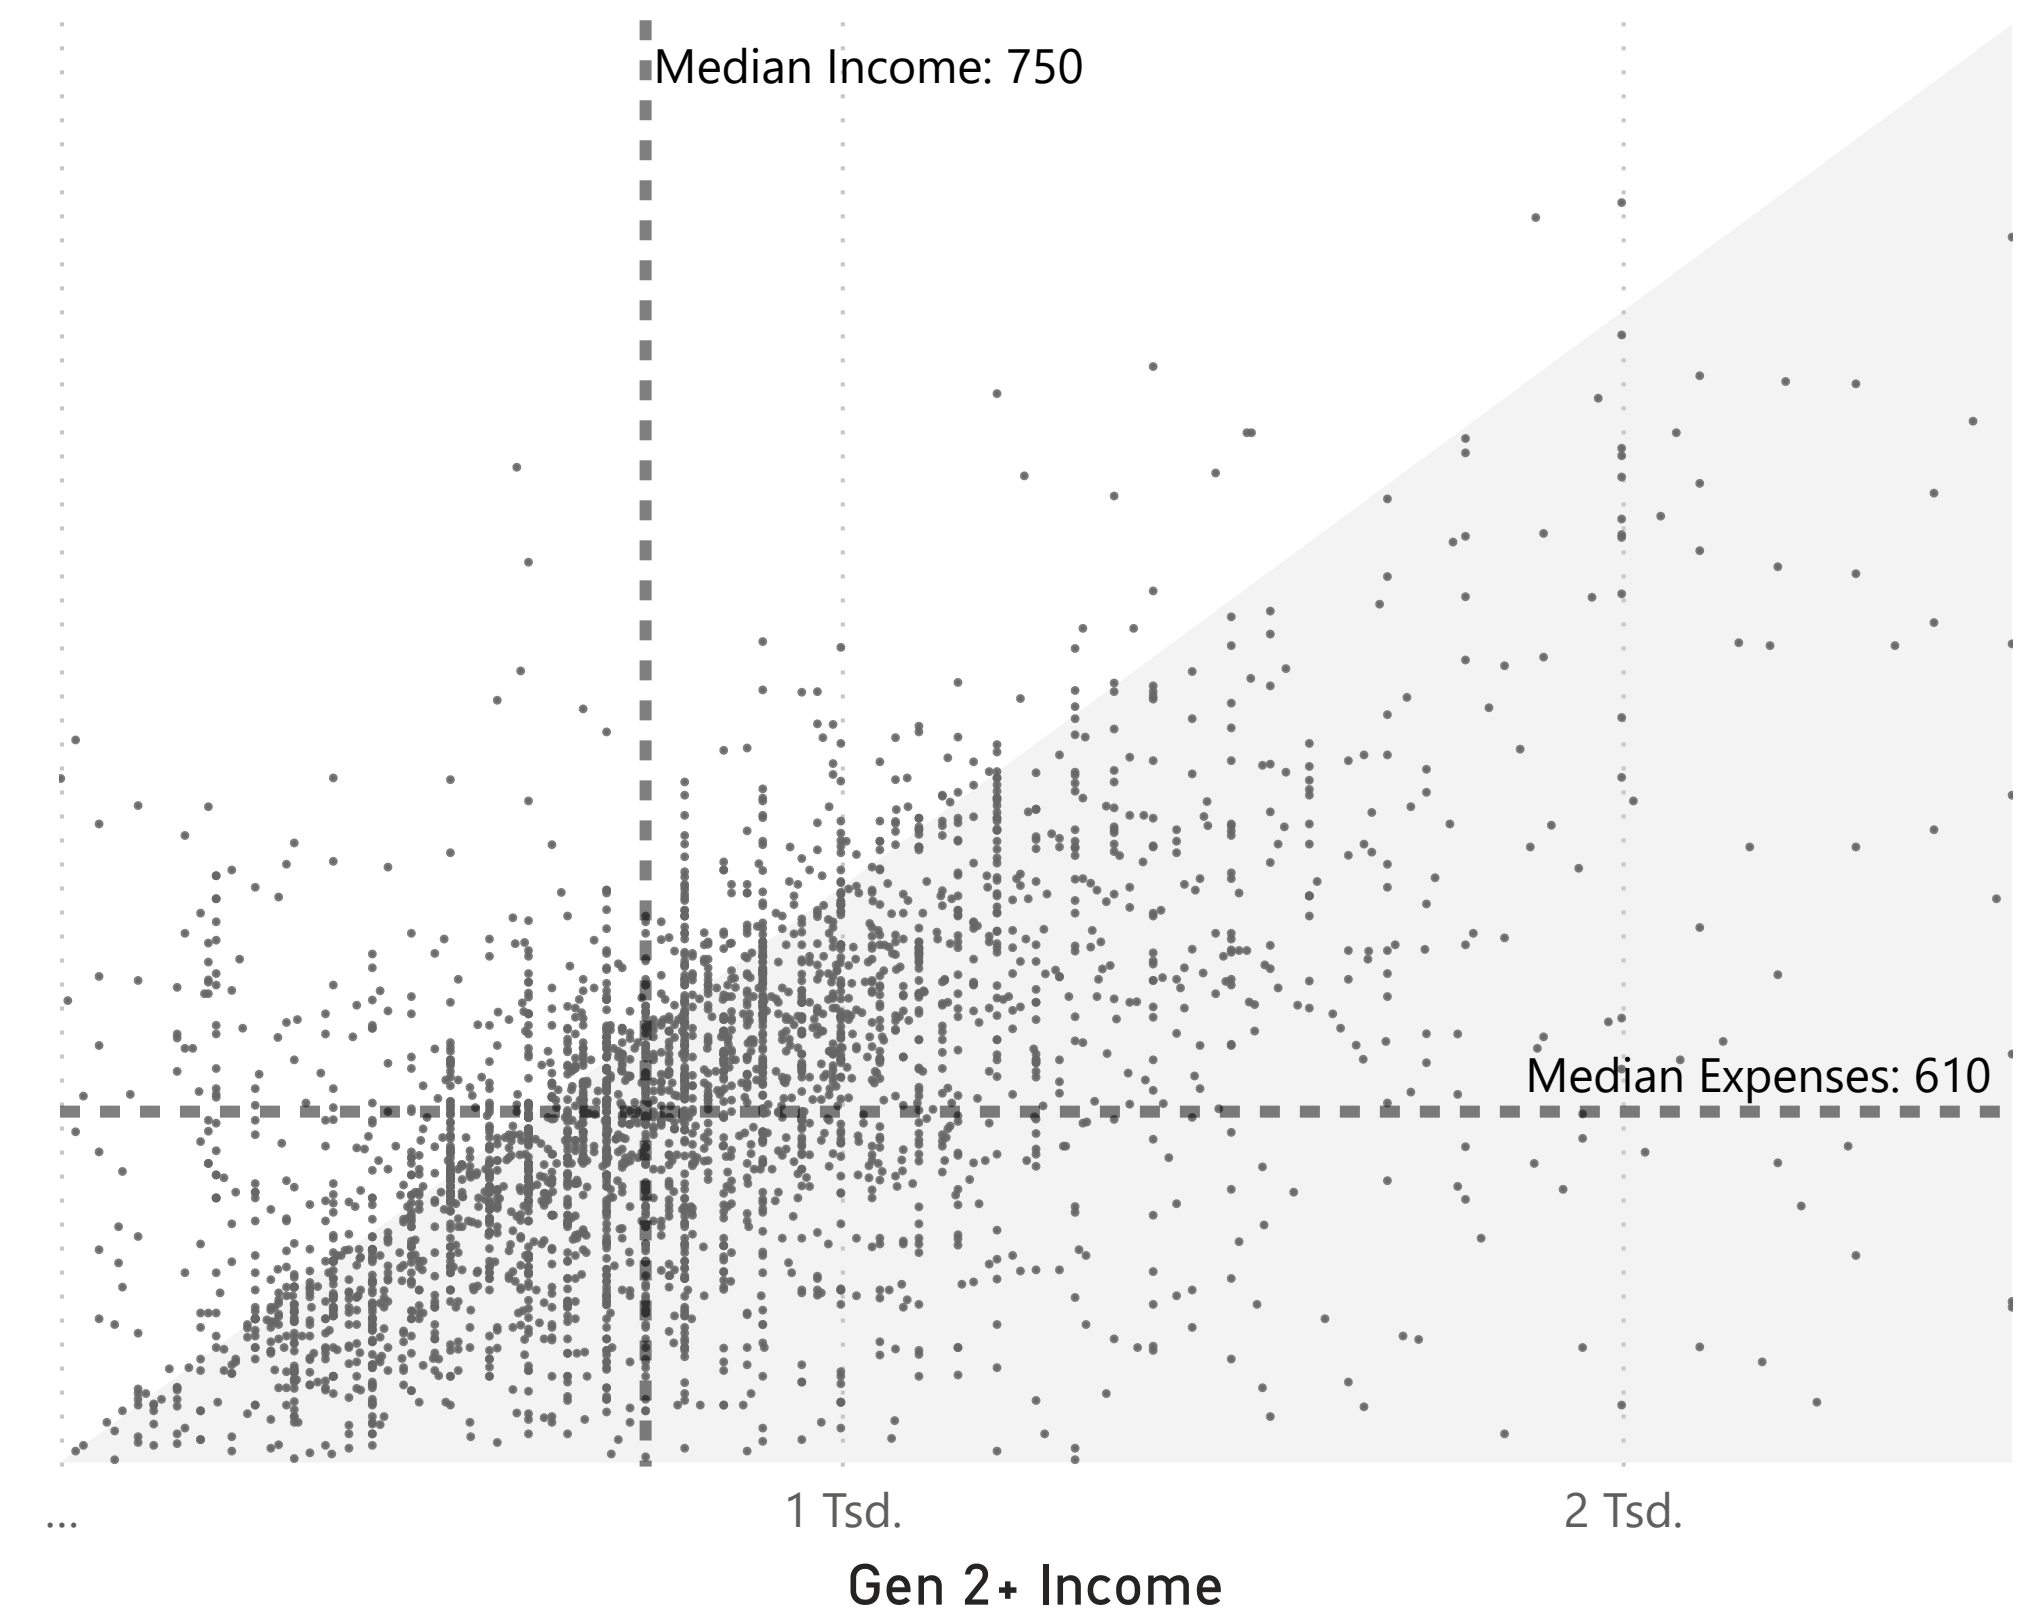

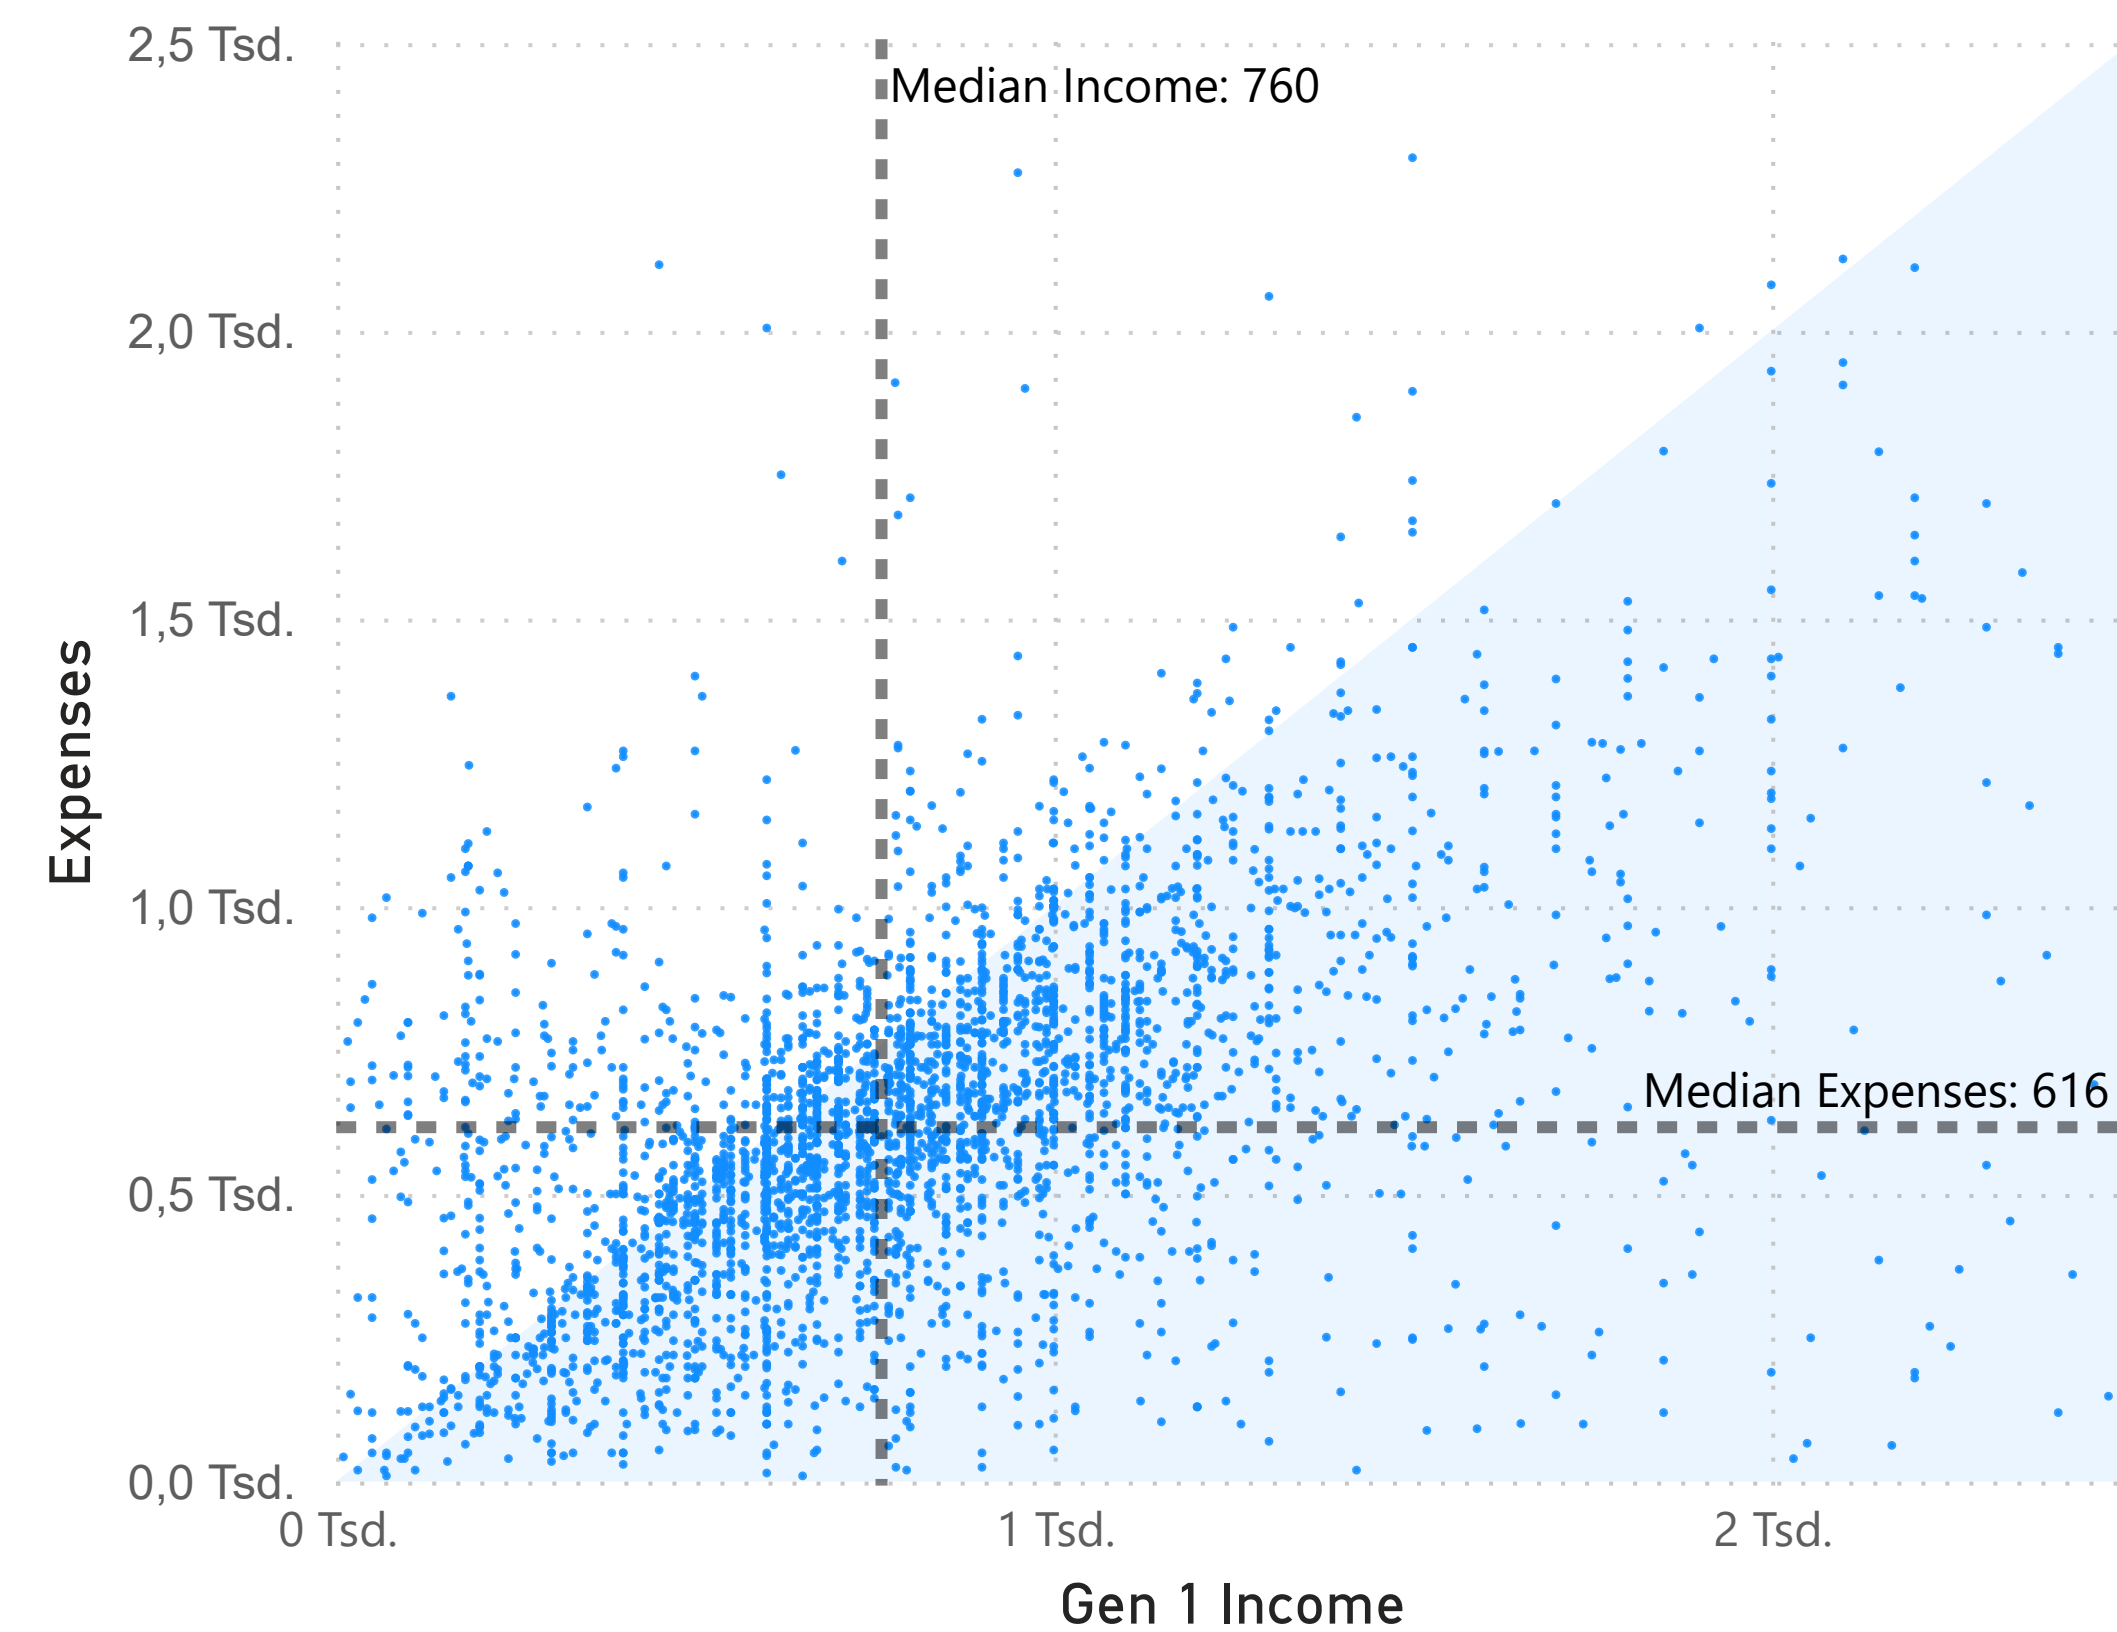

First Generation Students' Studying Conditions: A Comparative Analysis

Finding 3: While all students' average budgets are comparable, Gen 1 Students more easily slip into the red

2016 data | Gen 1 students are students where neither parent has a higher education degree | Percentages calculated among respondents per survey question

Monthly Finances (€)

Each data point is a student.

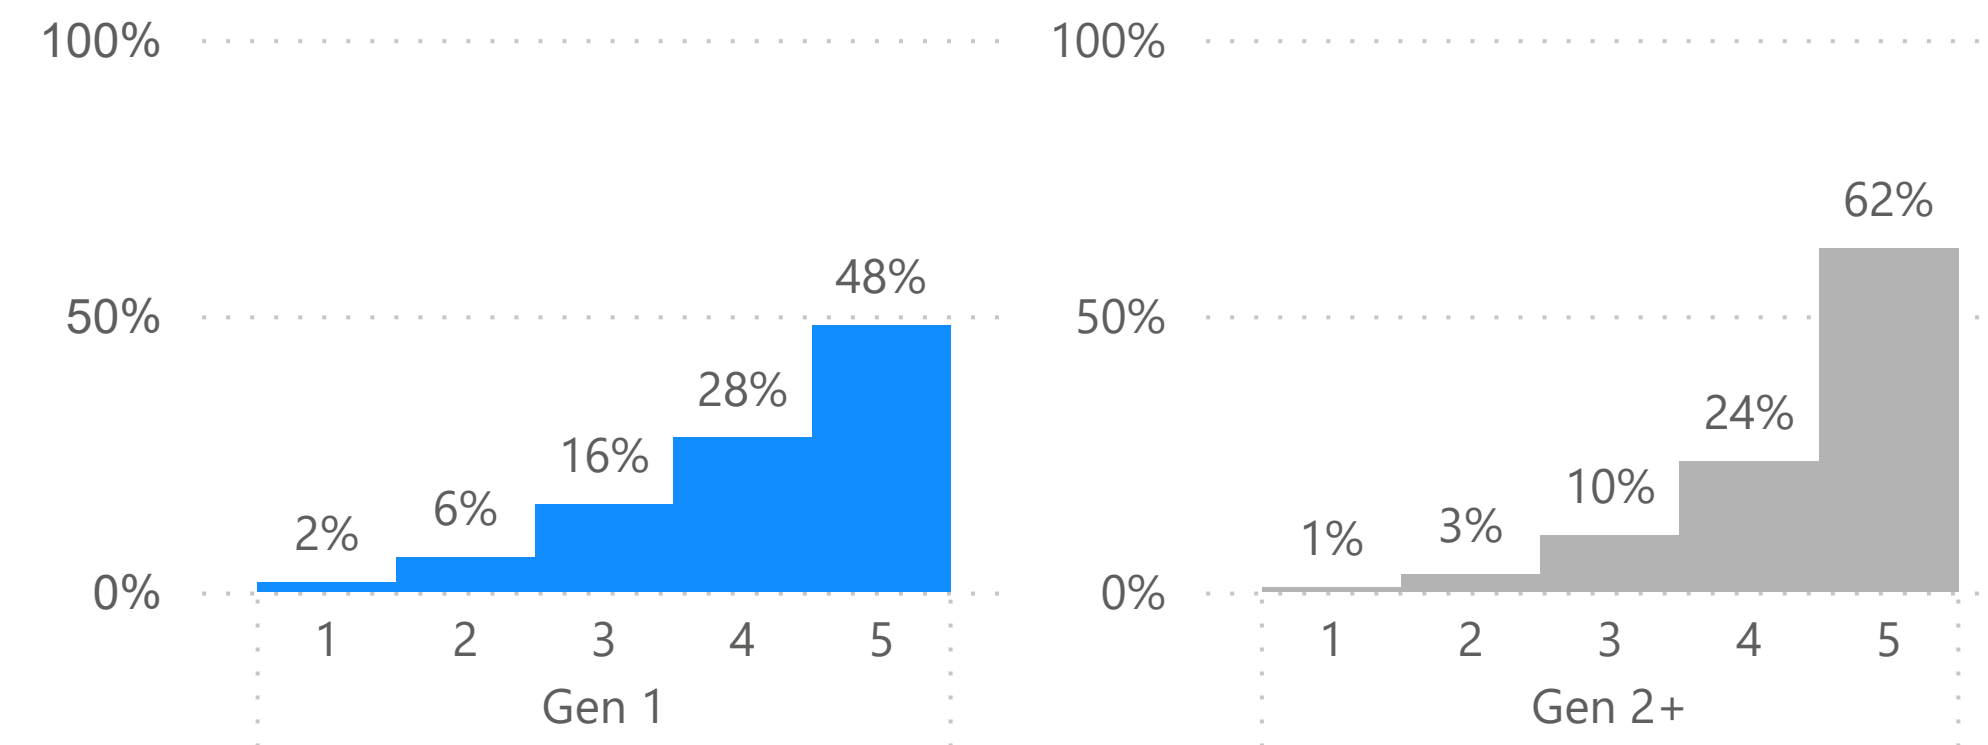

First Generation Students' Studying Conditions: A Comparative Analysis

Finding 4: Gen 1 Students have less financial security, and more strongly seek independence from their parents

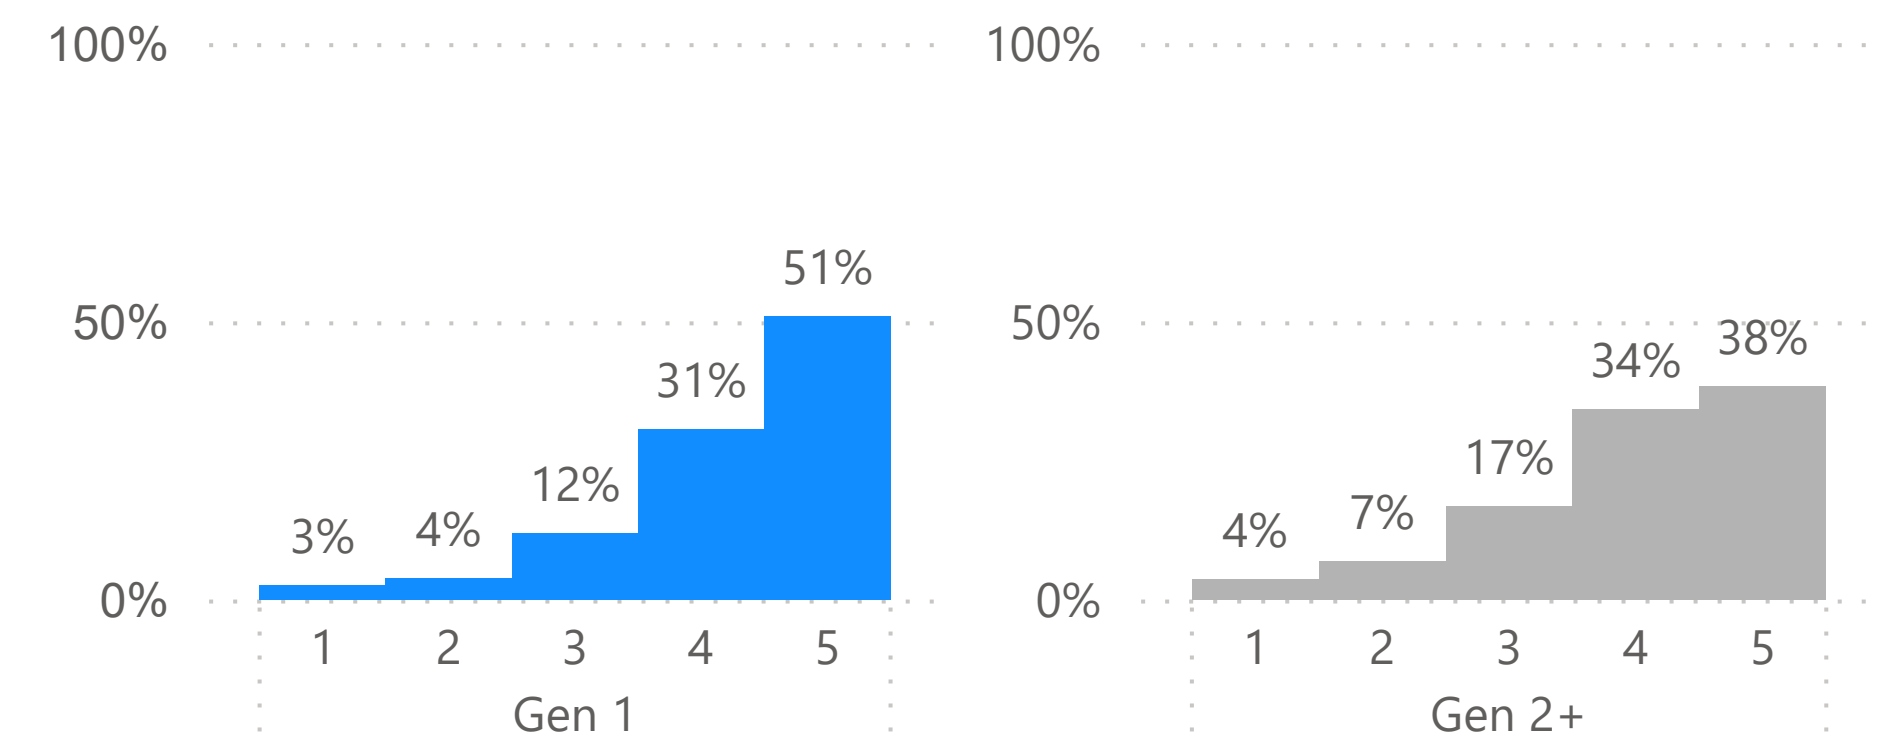

2016 data | Gen 1 students are students where neither parent has a higher education degree | Percentages calculated among respondents per survey question

"My living costs are secured"

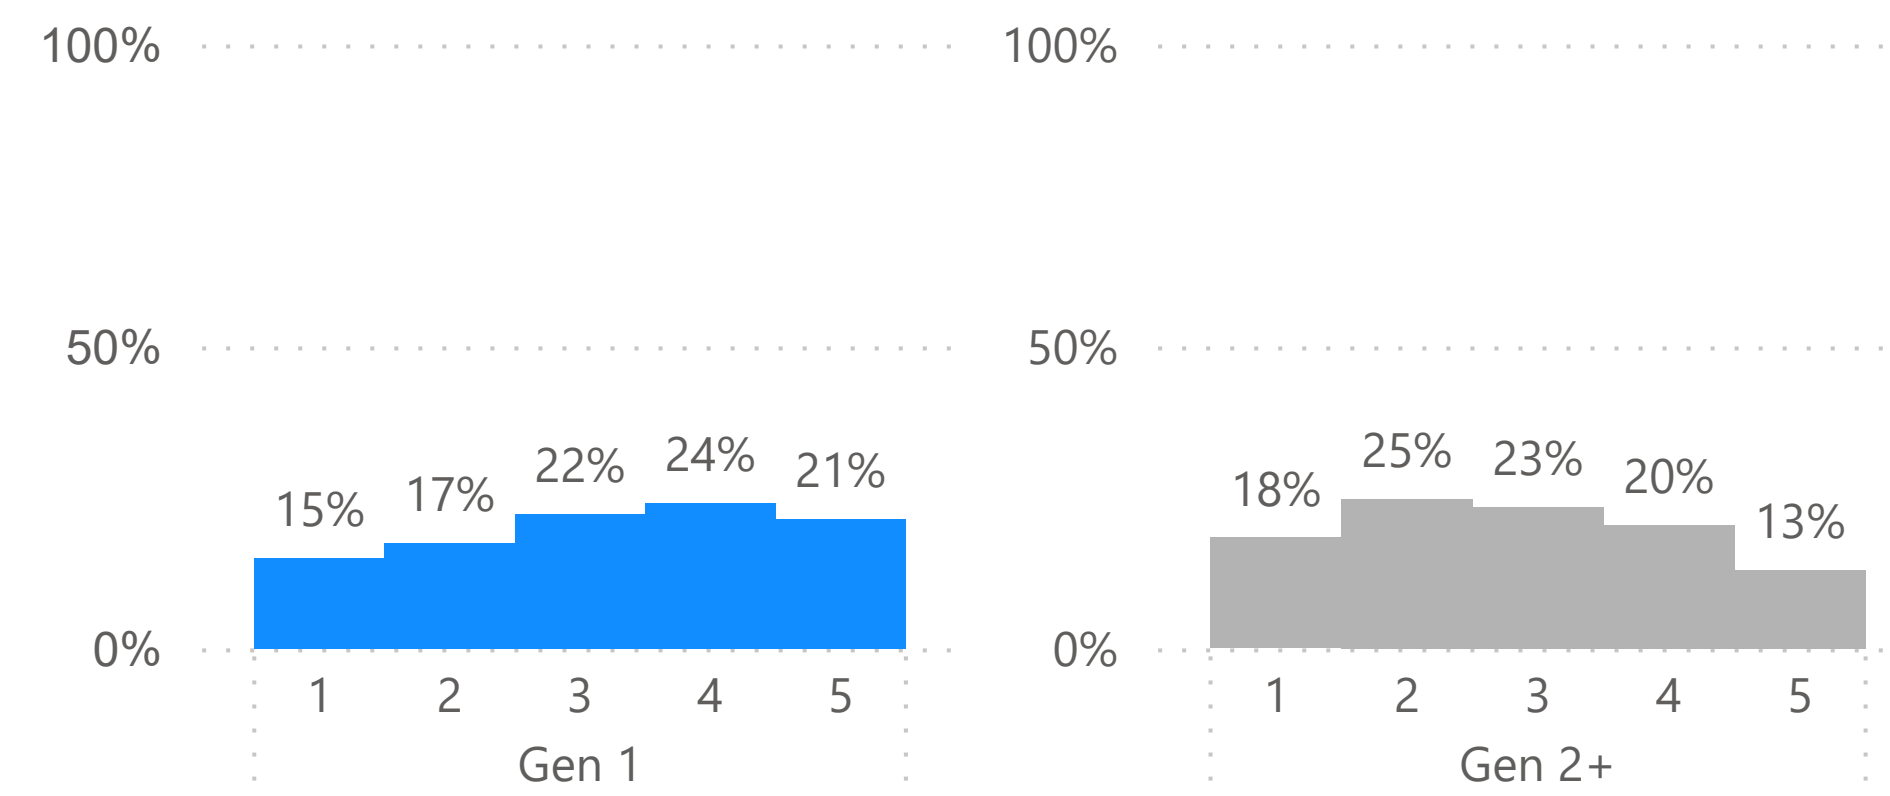

(1 = "not at all", 5 = "absolutely")

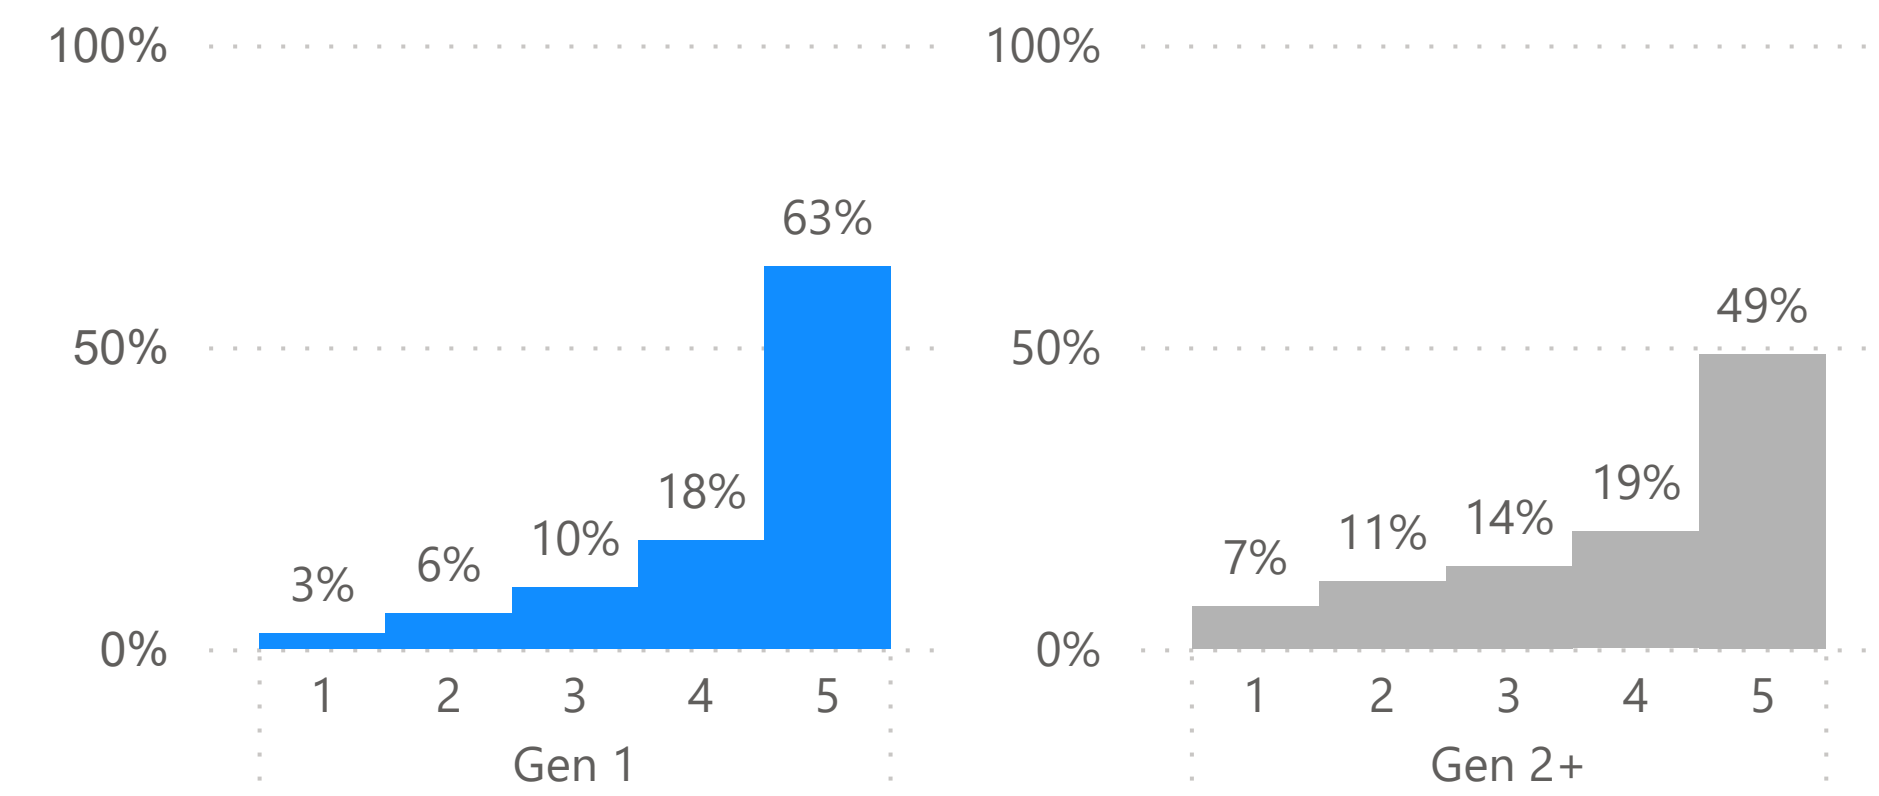

"I want to be independent from my parents"

"I overburden my parents financially"

"I need a side job to secure my living"

Source: RDC of the Federal Statistical Office and Statistical Offices of the Federal States, DOI: <https://doi.org/10.21249/DZHW:ssypool:1.0.1>, own calculations.